DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Adachi et al. (US 20010046926A1).

Adachi et al. directs to a vehicle speed control system/method for controlling a speed of a vehicle comprising: when an actual speed of the vehicle exceeds a predefined setpoint speed by more than a predefined speed difference, activating a service brake of the vehicle (Adachi et al., page 1, paragraph 0021). Adachi et al. does not describe the speed difference as being greater than zero, however, the speed difference taught in Adachi et al. is clearly a target value which is greater zero (Adachi et al., page 2, paragraphs 023 and 0024). Therefore, Adachi et al. inherently discloses the predefined speed difference has a value greater than zero.

Allowable Subject Matter

The previous 103 rejection of claims 15-22 has been withdrawn. The examiner has searched some of the areas that are relevant to the subject matter of those claims, but none of the references has been found fairly discloses or suggests a method for controlling a speed of a vehicle comprising: when the actual speed exceeds the setpoint speed by a second predefined speed difference, which is smaller than the first predefined speed difference, activating an idle speed control and reducing a torque request of activated ancillary components. Therefore, claims 15-22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
